The warm weather of the past two weeks has greatly improved the corn.

The camp of the Y. M. C. A. party at Pilot Knob is quite an attractive spot.
Orange sherbet and pineapple ice-cream at the Dr. Blanks' room this evening.

Just a slight shower toward evening on the 4th. Otherwise it was a model picnic day.
Lopez's have torn down the old porch in front of the store and put up an attractive awning.

The financial statement of the Pilot Knob school district is published in this issue of the Register.
If there's any more delightful experience than another it is to try to drive a balky horse on a hot day.

With the thermometer soaring in the nineties the ice man and the dispenser of cold drinks are all smiles.
FOUND—Wednesday, July 1st, a grip. Call at this office, prove property, pay expenses and take the grip.

The editor is indebted to Miss Alice Gay for as lovely a bouquet of sweet peas as you ever saw. They were exquisite.

Chas. Amburn, a Dent county boot legger, was brought here from St. Louis last Friday, and will serve thirty days in the Ironton jail.
Every teacher who attended the examinations in Reynolds county succeeded in getting a certificate. Must have been easy sailing over there.

Out of thirty-five who took the examinations for teachers only sixteen made grades sufficient to pass. It seemed to be "a hard road to travel."
Mr. Prentice says that he is going to try and double the capacity of the screen factory next season. Some fifty hands or more will be employed.

The wheat yield throughout Southeast Missouri this year will not be more than half a crop. A fair yield of oats is reported in this neighborhood.
Ironton was very orderly and quiet on the 4th, notwithstanding there were a great many people in town that day. Everybody was on their good behavior.

A man who has occasion to travel Iron county roads these days recalls with a sigh how much better our thoroughfares used to be than they are at the present time.

Poplar Bluff is trying to stop base ball playing in that town on Sunday. When Poplar Bluff does nothing worse than play ball on Sunday it will be a much better town than it has been at any time within the last thirty years.

The Sheriff of Madison county telephoned over here Monday afternoon saying that one hundred and fifty chickens had been stolen from a chicken roost in Fredericktown the night before. There was no trace of chicken or thieves.

Superintendent Smith says that we shall possess our souls in patience. He insists that we are going to have a new depot and a good one, too. He is also quoted as saying that we may expect an improvement in our train service in the near future.

The south-bound fast mail killed four cows at one of the Pilot Knob railroad crossings Monday morning. About a month ago the north-bound fast mail killed five cows at one of the crossings up there. Truly, the fast trains seem death to Stock.

Pete Martin, a copper colored oon of Poplar Bluff, who has looted quite a lot about this town, was shot at Williamsville on the 4th of July. Martin started to make a "rough house" and somebody turned a gun on him. His injuries were not fatal.

Mrs. Hettie Langdon Jones and her friend, Miss Gertrude Farrar, of De Soto, came down last Thursday to visit Dunklin county friends. Mrs. Jones was born in this county, and is a sister of the Messrs. Langdon, of Cotton Plant and Hornersville. —Dunklin Democrat.

Frank Walker fatally stabbed a man by the name of Moyle Cox in Bismarck on the evening of July 4th. The men were drinking and had had some trouble during the day. Walker's home is on the gravel road east of here and he has never had a very enviable reputation.

William Rudolph, one of the Union bank robbers, made his escape from the St. Louis jail Monday evening. It was stated that he was seen at Irondale the following morning, and a number of detectives have been sent there to look for him. A reward of $800 is offered for his capture.

STRAYED—From my residence in Pilot Knob, Mo., on July 6, 1903, one dark brown mare about 14 hands high, about 10 years old, front and back of mane is cut off. I will pay a reasonable reward for any information leading to her recovery.
CHAS. MADLINGER.

Just a little this side of the Madison county line on the gravel road there is a horrible mud hole right in the middle of the road. In fact it is dangerous and a team cannot be driven through it with safety. It is somebody's business to repair it. Such roads are a disgrace to a civilized community.

John T. Baldwin & Sons last week purchased six acres of land from John Newman paying him therefor $675. The land is situated east of the Baldwin residence and will be used by the Baldwins as a site for their lumber yard and planing mill. Services preparatory to the communion will be held on Wednesday and on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. These services are public and everybody is cordially invited to come. There is plenty of room and the seats are free.

One of the misfortunes of the late floods is the delay in the distribution of school laws. In May Supt. Carrington shipped boxes of school laws to every County Commissioner of Schools in the State. Not all of those started the last week have been delivered. He has since sent a small supply to all counties that did not receive first shipment. He will be able to supply any reasonable demand that may be made.

Chas. Hensgen and Albert Weingarten of St. Louis arrived in Farmington at 7 o'clock Monday evening, after a ride of nearly 100 miles on bicycles. They left St. Louis at 4 o'clock Monday morning and were on the road exactly fifteen hours. Considering the present condition of the roads, time was exceptionally good, and a century run on the Farmington and St. Louis road is something to be proud of. They are visiting the family of Mr. D. F. Reese. —Farmington Times.

Rosanna Nash, a married woman about thirty years of age who lives at Graniteville, came in town last Monday morning and made an affidavit that Jesse Thurman, a young man about eighteen years of age at Graniteville had assaulted her the day before and attempted to commit rape. Prosecuting Attorney had a warrant issued and Sheriff Polk went out that evening but could not find Thurman. It is believed he had word that the officer wanted him and that he is hiding near home.

James F. Rayfield and family returned from Oklahoma on last Sunday and will again make their home in Centreville. It will be remembered that Mr. Rayfield disposed of his property and stock of goods in Centreville some six months ago and moved to Oklahoma with the intention of making that his future home, but the country did not suit him as he thought it would, hence his return to "good old Reynolds." He will probably go into the stock business. —Reynolds County Outlook.

The pastors of the local churches, at a meeting held on the 7th inst., arranged for union services for Sunday evenings, during July and August. Bill Spough came into the office last Thursday afternoon and served notice on us that he didn't want his name in the next issue of the Register, in connection with a little row he was engaged in at Graniteville the night before. When told that it would depend on circumstances as to whether his name would be printed or not, Bill swore he would give us a "skinning"—whatever that is—if his name appeared in this issue. We have tried but have not been able to get the particulars of the racket in which Bill was engaged. If some one will kindly furnish the facts we will print them next week—Bill's name and all.

I spent a night at Piedmont last week on my way from Mill Spring. Piedmont is still on the boom, over twenty houses being built. My friend Wash Creath says he has sold twelve lots at $200 each; a year ago he would have taken $25. I called on Albert Blaine, who has sold out and is going to Hot Springs for his health. I also met John Zeigler, who will return to Greenville to his old firm, Holliday, Klotz & Co. I spent the night with Dr. Toney. He has plenty of practice—two calls the night I was there. Goodwater Items.

Harvesting has begun here.
The wheat crop is almost an entire failure. Some farmers in this locality out and shocked a part of their crop, some none, while others offered to take a quantity of wheat equal to the seed they sowed last fall for their entire crop. One man who cut his wheat told the writer that he thought it would not pay him to have it threshed and he had concluded to use it for feed.

The corn crop, despite the abundant rainfall, will, it is now believed, be quite light, owing to what some call the "wire-worm" that cuts the tap-root of the corn plants.

The rains during the past month have done much to improve the growth of grass, consequently meadows, though very weedy, will yield well. In many cases quite rank growth of grass abounds, and if cut while the weeds are in bloom, will yield a large quantity of good feed. Oats are unusually good; generally clean, tall and with well-filled heads.

On the 14th inst., Marion Nelson, of Boss, Dent county, Mo., passed through here in pursuit of three men who had stolen two of his horses. On the next day he returned home, having found the trail of the thieves. Soon afterwards the horses passed through, also homeward bound. It is thought that the thieves deemed it best to turn the horses loose after enjoying a ride on them.

Harry Bay, as the deceased was familiarly known, was born July 30, 1885, consequently he was nearly 18 years of age when he died. He was an unusually bright young man and was quite popular. He was formerly employed at Elvins, and injuries, resulting from a fall received while there, contributed to the cause of his death.
